Subject: NVFEL testing of LDT diesel w/ road speed fan

Hi Joel:

We received approval from EPA to use road speed fan for official testing. Can you tell us how you will handle this at your facility. We don't have capacity for a supplemental cooling development program for equivalence.

My management would like to know whether you will test at Auburn Hills with their driver, our driver or rent MBenz lab, etc?

Please share your thoughts on this issue.

Our current forecast is that will complete cert testing by early next month.
